

Interested in Refugee Sponsorship?

get involved

Canada is one of the few countries in the world that annually offers resettlement places to thousands of refugees. Groups across Canada have become important partners, offering additional sponsorships above the government numbers, allowing for over 3500 refugees to come to Canada every year who otherwise would not have had the chance.

In private refugee sponsorship, Canadian citizens, organizations and associations can sponsor refugees through Groups of Five, Community Sponsorship and Sponsorship Agreement Holders. Private sponsorship does not rely on public resources, but rather taps the energy and funds of faith communities, ethnic groups, families and other benevolent associations. Private sponsors offer personalized local support that the government is not able to provide.
